

The Association

The BNGO e.V. is the Professional Association of Practice-based Gynaecological Oncologists in Germany comprising 137 * highly specialised gynaecological oncologists from 118 * practices.

The preservation of and improvement to the quality of treatment and the welfare of the patient form the focus of our work. Our highest priority is the competent, outpatient, local and caring treatment of women with breast cancer and other gynaecological tumors.

In order to meet these objectives, the BNGO e.V. promotes quality assurance, further education and training and the exchange of scientific experiences among its members.

To ensure our own quality we have developed our own documentation system in cooperation with ONKODATAMED GmbH. Participation in this documentation system is mandatory for members.

The BNGO e.V. cooperates with scientific organisations such as AGO, NOGGO and DGHO in conducting scientific studies and further education courses. An important objective of the BNGO e.V. is the implementation of the additional designation "Gynaecological Oncology". For this purpose we are currently developing common training and further education concepts with the professional societies.

Together with our cooperation partners, hospital advisory boards and patient associations we shall continue to strengthen gynaecological oncology as an independent discipline in the future.

Membership

Every approved doctor of obstetrics and gynaecology in Germany who focuses on the treatment of oncological patients may apply to become a member of the BNGO e.V.

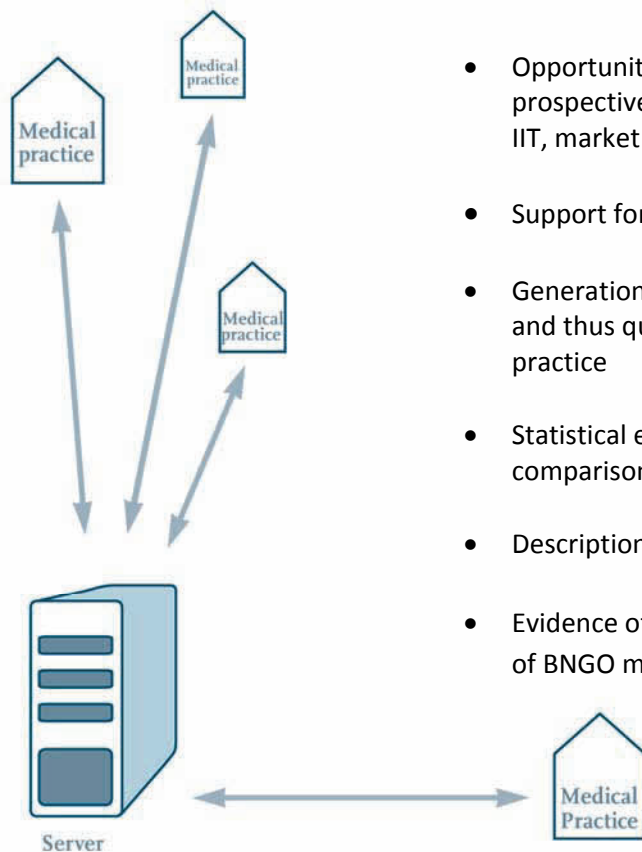

In the interest of quality assurance, documentation is obligatory as defined by the guidelines of the association.
